

INDEX TO VOLUME VII.

- Acidosis, influence of on carbohydrate metabolism (Mary L. Gilchrist), 169.
- ADDISON, OSWALD: Congenital obstruction of the female urethra, 25.
- AGASSIZ, C. D. S.: Tuberculous laryngitis in children, 227, 287.
- Aluminium poisoning (E. Pritchard), 228.
- Amaurotic idiocy, rare case of (Bernard Schlesinger), 228.
- Ammonium chloride, effect of on metabolism in infantile tetany and rickets (Noah Morris and Olive MacRae), 47.
- Amyoplasia congenita (Wilfrid Sheldon), 117—A correction, 230.
- Anæmia occurring in both mother and child (A. V. Neall and J. C. Hawksley), 228.
- Anæmia, role of yeast in treatment of (Leonard Parsons and J. C. Hawksley), 228.
- Antirachitic factor in human and animal milks (I. A. Sabri and M. M. Fikry), 239.
- ASHBY, HUGH T.: Rickets, congenital syphilis, and achondroplasia in the same child, 226, 231.
- ASHERSON, N.: Acute otitis media in infancy, 159.
- ASKAR, A. (A. K. Abdel Khalik and H. Erfan): Position of the large intestine in infants and its relation to constipation, 249.
- Avertin as a basal anaesthetic in children (J. D'Ewart), 229.
- BRAID, FRANCES: Osseous dystrophy following icterus gravis neonatorum, 313.
- BRAY, GEORGE: Causation of papular urticaria, 229.
- BRITISH PÆDIATRIC ASSOCIATION: Proceedings of the fifth annual general meeting, 225.
- The economics of the unnatural feeding of infants, 225—The role of phosphorus in the pathogenesis of infantile tetany, 226—Treatment of cerebro-spinal meningitis, 226—Clinical study of paraplegia of neoplastic origin in childhood, 226—Rickets, congenital syphilis and achondroplasia in the same child, 226—Treatment of chronic hydrocephalus in infancy 226—Haemolytic streptococci and acute rheumatism, 226—Growing pains: the problem of their relation to acute rheumatism, 227—Tuberculous laryngitis in children, 227—“Amyoplasia congenita,” 227—Cinematograph pictures of interesting medical cases, 227—The present state of the teaching and study of pædiatrics in the British medical schools, and the means and methods of improvement, and the advisability of instituting a Diploma of Pædiatrics, 227—Aluminium poisoning, 228—Anæmia occurring in both mother and child, 228—The role of yeast in the treatment of anæmia, 228—Rare case of amaurotic idiocy, 228—The causation of papular urticaria, 229—The use of avertin as a basal anaesthetic in children, 229.
- BROWN, J. W. (and D. C. Muir): Patent ductus arteriosus, 291.
- BRUCE, R. DOUGLAS (and A. Gordon Signy): Umbilical diphtheria, 43.
- Calcinosis and dwarfism associated with widespread arterial degeneration (Reginald Lightwood), 193.
- Calcium salts and radiostoleum in rheumatism (Edwin C. Warner), 273.
- Carbohydrate metabolism, influence of acidosis on (Mary L. Gilchrist), 169.
- Cerebro-spinal meningitis, see Meningitis.
- Children, difficult and defective (A. Dingwall Fordyce), 89.
- Chorea, obesity after (Alan Moncrieff), 303.
- COCKAYNE, E. A. (and F. P. Lee Lander): Rickets following an attack of acute nephritis, 321.
- COLLIS, ROBERT: Haemolytic streptococci and acute rheumatism, 226.
- Constipation and the position of the large intestine, see Intestine.
- Correction, 230.
- D'EWARD, J.: Avertin as a basal anaesthetic in children, 229.
- Diabetic children, the extent of pancreatic lesions in (Henry E. W. Robertson), 83.
- Difficult and defective children (A. Dingwall Fordyce), 89.
- Diphtheria, umbilical (A. Gordon Signy and R. Douglas Bruce), 43.
- Ductus arteriosus, patent (D. C. Muir and J. W. Brown), 291.
- Duodenal ileus, gastromegaly from (Reginald Miller and H. Courtney Gage), 65.
- Dwarfism and calcinosis associated with widespread arterial degeneration (Reginald Lightwood), 193.
- Dysentery in children (David Nabarro and A. Gordon Signy), 327.
- Dystrophy, osseous, following icterus gravis neonatorum (Frances Braid), 313.
- ECKSTEIN, A.: Investigations on the causes of vaccination encephalitis, 105.
- Encephalitis, vaccination, causes of (A. Eckstein), 105.
- Epituberculosis (J. C. Spence), 1.
- ERFAN, H. (A. K. Abdel Khalik and A. Askar): Position of the large intestine in infants and its relation to constipation, 249.
- Erythema nodosum, multiple cases of in a class of school children (Albin Landau), 77.
- Feeding of infants, unnatural, economics of (A. Moncrieff), 225.
- FIKRY, M. M. (and I. A. Sabri): Experimental study of the antirachitic factor in human and animal milks, 239.
- FINDLAY, LEONARD: Otitis media as an ætiological factor in gastro-enteritis, 307.
- FORDYCE, A. DINGWALL: Difficult and defective children, 89.
- FRASER, A. D.: Lesions of the pharynx in acute rheumatism, 181.
- GAGE, H. COURTNEY (and Reginald Miller): Gastromegaly from duodenal ileus, 65.
- Gastro-enteritis, otitis media as an ætiological factor in (Leonard Findlay), 307.
- Gastromegaly from duodenal ileus (Reginald Miller and H. Courtney Gage), 65.
- GILCHRIST, MARY: Influence of acidosis on carbohydrate metabolism, 169.
- GITTINS, ROBERT (and J. C. Hawksley): Ovarian sarcoma in children, 335.
- Growing pains: the problem of their relation to acute rheumatism (D. W. Winnicott), 227.
- Haemoglobins, specificity of, including embryonic haemoglobin (Hilda Trought), 259.
- Haemolytic streptococci and acute rheumatism (Robert Collis), 226.
- Haemorrhagic nephritis, see Nephritis.
- HAMPSON, A. C.: Treatment of cerebro-spinal meningitis, 226.
- HAWKSLEY, J. C.: Lymphocytic leukaemia causing pontine hæmorrhage, 29—Anæmia occurring in both mother and child, 228—The role of yeast in the treatment of anæmia, 228—(and Robert Gittins): Ovarian sarcoma in children, 335.
- HUTCHISON, R.: Present state of the teaching and study of pædiatrics and the advisability of instituting a Diploma of Pædiatrics, 227.
- Hydrocephalus, chronic, treatment of (C. P. Lapage), 226.
- Icterus gravis neonatorum followed by osseous dystrophy (Frances Braid), 313.
- Idiocy, amaurotic, rare case of (Bernard Schlesinger), 228.
- Ileus, duodenal, gastromegaly from (Reginald Miller and H. Courtney Gage), 65.
- Intestine, large, position of in infants and its relation to constipation (A. K. Abdel Khalik, H. Erfan, and A. Askar), 249.
- Intussusception, chronic, in children (D. M. Sutherland), 191.
- Intussusception, sub-acute, with skiagrams (Reginald Miller), 209.

- Kala-azar in children of North China (Annie V. Scott), 59.
 Kala-azar in children, treatment of (Annie V. Scott), 213.
 KELLETT, C. E.: Vincent's infection in childhood, 263.
 KHALIK, A. K. ABDEL (H. Erfan and A. Askar): Position of the large intestine in infants and its relation to constipation, 249.
 LANDAU, ALBIN: Multiple cases of erythema nodosum in a class of school children, 77.
 LANDER, F. P. Lee (and E. A. Cockayne): Rickets following an attack of acute nephritis, 321.
 LAPAGE, C. P.: Treatment of chronic hydrocephalus in infancy, 226—Case of haemorrhagic nephritis in a new-born baby, 235.
 LARYNGITIS, tuberculous, in children (C. D. S. Agassiz), 227, 287.
 Leukemia, lymphocytic, causing pontine haemorrhage (J. C. Hawksley), 29.
 LIGHTWOOD, REGINALD: Tumour of the suprarenal cortex in an infant of 18 weeks, 35—Case of dwarfism and calcinosis associated with widespread arterial degeneration, 193—(and F. John Poynton): Paraplegia of neoplastic origin in childhood, 226.
 Lobstein's disease, see Osteopsathyrosis.
 Lung, tuberculosis of, see Tuberculosis.
 Lymphocytic leukemia, see Leukemia.
 MACRAE, OLIVE (and Noah Morris): Effect of ammonium chloride on metabolism in infantile tetany and rickets, 47.
 MADDOX, KEMPSON: Rickets in Sydney, Australia, 9.
 MAIZELS, MONTAGUE (and Jean Smith): The plasma phosphatase in rickets and scurvy, 149.
 Meningitis, cerebro-spinal, treatment of (A. C. Hampson), 226.
 Metabolism, effect of ammonium chloride on (Noah Morris and Olive MacRae), 47.
 Milks, human and animal, antirachitic factor in (I. A. Sabri and M. M. Fikry), 239.
 MILLER, REGINALD (and H. Courtney Gage): Gastromegaly from duodenal ileus, 65—Case of sub-acute intussusception with skiagrams, 209.
 MONCRIEFF, A.: Economics of the unnatural feeding of infants, 225.
 MONCRIEFF, ALAN: Obesity after chorea, 303.
 MORRIS, NOAH (and Olive MacRae): Effect of ammonium chloride on metabolism in infantile tetany and rickets, 47—The role of phosphorus in the pathogenesis of infantile tetany, 226.
 MUIR, D. C. (and J. W. Brown): Patent ductus arteriosus, 291.
 NABARRO, DAVID (and A. Gordon Signy): Dysentery in children, 327.
 NEALE, A. V.: Four cases of urinary obstruction, 97.
 NEALL, A. V.: Anaemia occurring in both mother and child, 228.
 Nephritis, acute, followed by rickets (E. A. Cockayne and F. P. Lee Lander), 321.
 Nephritis, haemorrhagic, in a new-born baby (C. Paget Lapage), 235.
 Obesity after chorea (Alan Moncrieff), 303.
 Osseous dystrophy following icterus gravis neonatorum (Frances Braid), 313.
 Osteopsathyrosis (Lobstein's disease) (Constance M. Otley), 137.
 Otitis media, acute, in infancy (N. Asherson), 159.
 Otitis media as an aetiological factor in gastroenteritis (Leonard Findlay), 307.
 OTLEY, CONSTANCE M.: Osteopsathyrosis (Lobstein's disease), 137.
 Ovarian sarcoma, see Sarcoma.
 Pediatrics, present state of teaching and study of, and the advisability of instituting a Diploma of Pediatrics (R. Hutchison), 227—Discussion, 227.
 Pancreatic lesions in diabetic children, the extent of (Henry E. W. Robertson), 83.
 Paraplegia of neoplastic origin in childhood (Reginald Lightwood and F. John Poynton), 226.
 PARSONS, LEONARD: The role of yeast in the treatment of anaemia, 228.
 Patent ductus arteriosus (D. C. Muir and J. W. Brown), 291.
 Pharynx, lesions of in acute rheumatism (A. D. Fraser), 181.
 Phosphorus in infantile tetany (Noah Morris), 226.
 Plasma phosphatase in rickets and scurvy (Jean Smith and Montague Maizels), 149.
 POYNTON, F. JOHN (and Reginald Lightwood): Paraplegia of neoplastic origin in childhood, 226.
 PRITCHARD, E.: Aluminium poisoning, 228.
 Radiostoleum and calcium salts in rheumatism (Edwin C. Warner), 273.
 Rheumatism, acute, and hemolytic streptococci (Robert Collis), 226.
 Rheumatism, acute, lesions of the pharynx in (A. D. Fraser), 181.
 Rheumatism, radiostoleum and calcium salts in (Edwin C. Warner), 273.
 Rickets, effect of ammonium chloride on metabolism in (Noah Morris and Olive MacRae), 47.
 Rickets, congenital syphilis and achondroplasia in the same child (Hugh T. Ashly), 226, 231.
 Rickets following an attack of acute nephritis (E. A. Cockayne and F. P. Lee Lander), 321.
 Rickets, the plasma phosphatase in (Jean Smith and Montague Maizels), 149.
 Rickets in Sydney, Australia (Kempson Maddox), 9.
 ROBERTSON, HENRY E. W.: The extent of pancreatic lesions in diabetic children, 83.
 SABRI, I. A. (and M. M. Fikry): Experimental study of the antirachitic factor in human and animal milks, 239.
 Sarcoma of ovary in children (Robert Gittins and J. C. Hawksley), 335.
 SCHLESINGER, BERNARD: Rare case of amaurotic idiocy, 228.
 SCOTT, ANNIE, V.: Kala-azar in children of North China, 59—Treatment of kala-azar in children, 213.
 Scurvy, the plasma phosphatase in (Jean Smith and Montague Maizels), 149.
 SHELTON, WILFRID: Amyoplasia congenita, 117—A correction, 230.
 SIGNY, A. GORDON (and R. Douglas Bruce): Umbilical diphtheria, 43—(and David Nabarro): Dysentery in children, 327.
 Sinusitis in childhood (Valentina P. Wasson), 277.
 SMITH, JEAN (and Montague Maizels): The plasma phosphatase in rickets and scurvy, 149.
 SPENCE, J. C.: Benign tuberculous infiltration of the lung (epituberculosis), 1.
 Suprarenal cortex, tumour of, see Tumour.
 SUTHERLAND, D. M.: Chronic intussusception in children, 191.
 Tetany, infantile, effect of ammonium chloride on metabolism in (Noah Morris and Olive MacRae), 47.
 Tetany, infantile, role of phosphorus in (Noah Morris), 226.
 TROUGHT, HILDA: Specificity of haemoglobins including embryonic haemoglobin, 259.
 Tuberculous infiltration of the lung, benign (epituberculosis) (J. C. Spence), 1.
